Brandon Heitmann is an Associate in the New York office of Labaton Sucharow LLP. Brandon focuses on representing consumers around the country in a variety of important and unprecedented complex matters.

Before joining Labaton Sucharow, Brandon was an Associate at Fitzpatrick & Hunt, Pagano, Aubert, LLP, where he extensively litigated multi-party, multi-claim lawsuits, including complex product liability, commercial, and aviation lawsuits brought in state and federal courts. He also served as a Judicial Intern for the Honorable James E. d'Auguste in the New York County Supreme Court.

He is a member of the New York Bar Association and New York City Bar Association.

Brandon earned his Juris Doctor from Fordham University, where he was Associate Editor of the Fordham Intellectual Property, Media & Entertainment Law Journal. While in law school, he was a member of Fordham's Moot Court Board, where he served as the Metropolitan Mentor Moot Court Competition Editor. Brandon coordinated and ran the Mentor Moot Court Competition, which pairs New York City high school students with practicing lawyers who mentor students as they prepare for competition. Brandon also received his undergraduate degree, cum laude, from Fordham University.
