Veronica Bosco is an Associate in the New York office of Labaton Sucharow LLP. Veronica is a member of the Firm's Antitrust Practice and focuses her practice on litigating complex antitrust class actions on behalf of institutional investors, businesses, and consumers. Prior to joining the Firm, Veronica was an Associate at Wolf Haldenstein Adler Freeman & Herz LLP, where she represented institutional investors in international antitrust litigation against financial institutions for collusion and price-fixing, as well as investors in opt-out litigation proceedings alleging restraint of trade in violation of antitrust laws. Veronica previously served as a Judicial Law Clerk for the Honorable Claire C. Cecchi, U.S. District Court (District of New Jersey), where she drafted judicial opinions for motions on antitrust and ERISA matters, among others. She earned her Juris Doctor from Fordham University School of Law, where she was a member of the Fordham Moot Court Editorial Board and the Fordham Journal of Corporate and Financial Law, as well as a Quarterfinalist in the William Hughes Mulligan Memorial Moot Court Competition. Veronica received her Bachelor of Arts from Fordham University.
